CAPTAIN ROBERT TRACY GILLMORE—Med. '92

Died in Service, January 20, 1918

Robert Tracy Gillmore, of the class of 1892, Captain in the Medical Reserve Corps of the United States Army, aged fifty, died at Camp Greenleaf, Ft. Oglethorpe, Georgia, January 20, 1918, after an illness of four days, from a virulent gas bacillus infection following a splinter wound of the arm.

Dr. Gillmore was a native of Chicago and although he entered the class of 1892 in the senior year, was much esteemed and greatly beloved by his classmates. After graduation he devoted himself to the specialty gynecology and soon attained and maintained high rank among the practitioners of that specialty in the west. He soon became a member of the Faculty of his Alma Mater and at the time of his death was Assistant Clinical Professor of Gynecology. He was a Fellow of the American Medical Association and of the American College of Surgeons, and also served acceptably as secretary of the Chicago Medical Society. He was surgeon for the South Side Elevated Railroad for several years. He accepted his commission as Captain in the Medical Reserve Corps and was ordered on active duty at Camp Greenleaf and left Chicago for his station January 10, only ten days before his untimely and regrettable death. The funeral services were held and the body was interred in the National Cemetery, Chattanooga, Tennessee, January 21.

In the death of Dr. Gillmore his classmates suffer the loss of a beloved comrade; his Alma Mater an efficient and esteemed faculty member. To his bereaved and devoted wife, Dr. Emma Gillmore, the Alumni and Faculty of the Medical School extend their heartfelt sympathy.

(Signed) FREDERICK MENGE, President.
